SUMMARY OF NEWS.

Our advices from Japan come down to Oc-The war in the South has lulled Stotsbashi reigns, and people are anxious to hear what policy the new Shogoon will adopt. Some appear to think that he will endeavour to patch up the quarrel, and others again affirm that, according to Japanese law or custom he will be compelled notens votens to carry on the war.

From Chefoo we learn that the French fleet consisting of the burning of the General Sherman by the Coreans and the consequent death of all on board is confirmed under date of of one frigate, 3 corvettes, and 4 gun boats which left for Corea on the 11th ultimo., on the 15th entered the town of Kanghoa, some distance up a river, described as a small place of only 10,000 inhabitants, nearly all of whom deserted the town on the French approach. The fact of the murder of the missionaries is fully admitted by the Coreans, "and a mandarin who was captured and taken on board the admiral's ship seemed to glory in the fact. The King invited the French admiral to proceed to the capital to negociate; but this was declined, as a trap was suspected, and a despatch was sent instead, in which demands were made for punishment of the mandarins who had instigated the murders, and for the appointment of a plenipotentiary. News had been brought to the French by a Corean convert that junks containing stones had been sunk in the River Seoul, between Kanghoa and the capital; and that the Viceroy had despatched an army 15,000 strong to attack them. In another page will be found a very interesting account of the expedition in the form of a diary. The Seoul is officially declared under blockade by the French.

rity of the North China Herald, that the Viceroy has at length determined on the movement against the Honan and Shan-tung Nienfei, to which Tseng-kwo-fan has so frequently urged him, and has left Nanking for the seat of war. For once apparently, the Imperialists are in earnest in their operations. A triple advance has been planned,-the Viceroy marching from the South, Tsen-kwo-fan from the East, and another imperialist force from the! Northwest, -by which it is open to surround and effectually crush the rebels. Hitherto, there can be no doubt, Li has not co-operated heartily with his patron and present rival. It did not answer his purpose to con--tribute to the latter's power and glory, without advancing his own; and he has waited an opportune time for a decisive blow of which the credit should redound on himself. Had he moved at first, Tsen-kwofan, as Commander-in-Chief, would have had the credit of success; but now, the latter having proved himself unable during a long campaign to inflict any decisive blow on his opponents, it will be to Li's arrival on the scene that victory will be attributed, should it crown the Imperial banners; and his prestige which will be exalted.

From Shanghae we learn upon autho-

The most interesting announcement in the report by the Finance Rate and Appeal Committee of the Shanghae Municipality is that a step has been made towards reducing the Municipal debt. The recommendation that Tls. 1,526 be written off as a bad debt and Tis. 2,160 carried to suspense account, pending the institution of legal proceedings, is less satisfactory. The two principal defaulters appear to be Mr E M. Smith, and H. I. C. M. Customs; the claim against whom amounts, in the aggregate, to Tls. 3,030 out of the Tls. 3,686 in arrear. Mr Smith, we believe, refuses payment on account of alleged illegal action by the Council in 1864, in collecting Gambling House and Brothel licenses, and injury which, he avers, he sustained thereby. The Customs object, on the ground that the Emperor of China should not be taxed on his own soil; but appear to overofficers have all the advantages of draining, lighting and other Municipal arrangements. The Council have apparently resolved to abandon a portion of this claim, and to sue for the remainder. Much more to be regretted, however, is the statement that five Prussian subjects decline to contribute towards an institution of which they, notpert & Co. in a similar resistance to a finesse here indicated is eminently discredi- of steps to put a stop to the manufacture foreigners on board the ship. The Chinese consideration. First it blunders between applied to a Magistrate, and we have not

Land Renters, 'he ruled, "rests the responsibility of paying the taxes, which they have no right to levy on tenants of houses who are in no other connection and under no other obligation as regards their landlords, than are contained in their deeds and mutual agree ments." This decision may be logical, and in accordance with the wording of Article X of the Regulations; but it is little to the credit of the gentlemen named, that they avail of its support. Clearly, however as the Municipal Council imply, if house holders are not liable to takes, they cannot claim the benefits arising from their expenditure; and the gentlemen who have taken up this position will be fitly punished, in case of burglary, by being left to their own

The discussion which took place at the last meeting of Treaty Consuls, on the subject of Yangtze pilotage, has borne fruit in the publication of an identical set of rules by the representatives of France, America, England and Prussia, and the Commissioner ling to persons licencing by a qualified Board of Examiners. Certainly the entrance to the Yangtze is not so free from danger that restrictions are here unnecessary. Yet, during the quarter of a century that the port has been opened, no attempt has hitherto been made to enforce them, other than by a combination of insurance offices. These have proved nearly complete failures; and, practically it has been open to any one who could afford a boat in which to cruise about, to offer himself as a pilot to any ship approaching the port. The Regulations now determined Friday morning to explain how it became on, will do away with this anomaly. No who has not passed a Board of Examiners, tendered, and strange to say neither the consisting of the Harbour Master and any three persons selected from a list of experts to be furnished by the mail agents and the local Insurance Companies, will be man, at the same time recommending allowed to ply as a pilot in connection with the shroff to be more careful in future. this port. There seems to have been something unsatisfactory about the recent horse races at Shanghai. Some objectionable "turf practice," it is insinuated by the Recorder, was introduced, "and it is now becoming doubtful whether the sport will be continued" at the model settlement. The nature of the alleged practice may be gathered from the following extract from a leader which our contemporary has devoted to the subject :- "We do not pretend to say that a last moment, and the action be quite within the recognised code of sporting hai. missed by the Chief Justice. The nature of the case will be learnt from the article which follows this. Bis Honor's judgment was not given on the merits but on technical points. There can be no intelligent doubt that justice has been done to the would-be opium smugglers.

The French barque Eugene & Adele, Captain Girard, left Macao for the Havanah on the 7th October, with a freight of 466 coolies. A day or two after she sailed the coolies showed signs of discontent. This dissatisfaction soon ripened into mutiny, and the coolie passengers rose against the officers and crew. A hard fight for the mastery ensued, in which the Chinese are said to have been met by great determination and resolute bravery on the part of those in charge of the vessel. Great numbers of the coolies were killed in the struggle, many more were wounded and the revolt suppressed. The captain, however, was of Customs on behalf of the Chinese autho- shot dead by one of the mutineers; the rities; restricting the exercise of the cal- chief officer was severely wounded and many of the crew were more or less seriously injured during the melée. The following suggestion, volunteered by the Hankow Times, has been anticipated by the Viceroy of Canton, who has directed that the new dollar, and or course the smaller coins; shall be legal tenders, in payment of Customs' duties at ship, or Tls. 110 from Gutzlaff to Shang- that port. The dollars consisted of Mexicans, Spanish, and the new Hongkong dollar. From the evidence of the constable it appeared that before he arrested the six men in Tung man Lane; he sent a Chinaman, whom he watched into the house, with a dollar, and seeing him come out without losing sight of him received six bad dollars in exchange which wan, and there, under license from the telegraph connecting the cities of Canton, the man said he had obtained in the house, The dollars being produced in court, of course proved to be bad. Much dissatisfaction is reported as existing at Canton in consequence of the recent changes introduced by the new Governor of the Province in the method of levying the inland (not Customs') duties on merchandize. The system pursued of late years has been that of collecting a definite tax from merchants, the impost on merchandize in transitu being restricted both in value and amount; but the regulations newly introduced are said to be exceedingly comprehensive in the latter respect, as also to be oppressive in scale. The silk-dealers have presented a memorial to the Governor urging a reduction in the new tariff, but the result is not yet known. The prophets of decadence of Hongkong will of course be gratified to learn that some French capitalists are organizing a second company in competition with the Americans to steam direct from Panama to Hongkong with the Messageries Imperiales steamers from Japan and Shanghai. #### THE OPIUM CASE.

THE dismissal of the appeal in the Chin wan Opium case on the 12th is likely to give extensive satisfaction to all who are interested in seeing any attempt to evade the laws of the Colony frustrated. The case is so simple that it may be stated in few words, and, as it is of importance as a precedent, we shall endeavour to place it before our readers divested of the technicalities which necessarily attend an ordinary Briefly then, a certain opium boiler, b way of avoiding the payment of the l cense fees due to the opium farmer of the year, removes to a small village on the mainland not far from hence, called Chintablishment to take cognizance of the af- its directors. fair. Moreover, any foreign ship taking such opium without proper papers is liable on arrival at her destination to v rious vexatious proceedings. The opium boiler of Chinwan therefore obtains shipping certificate from the American Consul at Hongkong. Whilst shipping the opium in the waters of the Colony is is seized and confiscated, and the custodians punished.

Now the ordinance framed to protect the monopoly paid for by the opinin farmar (No. 2 of 1858) expressly states that in the first place the opium farmer has the sole privilege of boiling and preparing. opium, and of selling and retailing opium so prepared within this colony or the waters thereof; and Sec. 8 of the ordinance further states that no uncertificated person shall bring into this colony or the waters thereof or have in his possession or custody, any prepared opium.

The case therefore resolves itself into the simple question :- was the opium brought to or shipped from this colony, or the waters of the colony? According to possible, by a line between Hongkong and the best authorities, a vessel carnot receive goods and place them on her mani- perimental or at least as likely to be worked fest without their being deemed to be re- at a loss for some time. The Daily Press of Nov. 13. in an article betraying a singular want of acquaintance with fact and law says :- "The warrant in the first instance was improperly granted, as the ordinance states that such warrants can only be issued on information that opium prepared without farmer's license is in the waters of the Colony, whereas the information on which the warrant was issued merely stated that was suspected to be coming within the waters of the Colony." Well, even so that was a sufficient compliance with the Ordinance. The words are, "Upon lawful evidence being given to the reasonable satisfaction of a stipendary magistrate &c. that any person within this Colony or the waters thereof hath in his possession or custody any opium &c.;" clearly pointing out that a wide amount of discretion is left to the same matter, and incidentally to something said magistrate as to granting the warrant. else :-Were it intended that no warrant could embody Art XV in the ordinance provid- about him personally; but as long as he ing against frivolous or vexatious charges, which could never be made if suspicion was entirely excluded from the grounds of action? It then attempts to define the "waters" of the Colony in a way which betrays an absolute unacquaintance with the first principles of international law. And now after giving judgment, in its own belief, more wisely than either Magistrate or Chief Justice, winds up by the brilliant sugges. tion that the Governor should interfere in this case and "remit the fine, restore the opium seized, or even make the injured parties compensation." We, on the contrary, trust that His Excellency will leave the matter as it stands, that he will not interfere with the ordinary course of law. He is doing his best to put down piracy; it would be inconsistent to afford indirect encouragement to opium smuggling,

THE EAST INDIA TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

As a contemporary facetiously observed, everybody does know that Dr. McGowau has come to China to lay down a telegraphic wire from some one part of Chinato another. We have not yet seen, however, that thescheme of the company he represents has been actually stated in detail and we therefore subjoin some of its more noticeable features. The East India Tele-GRAPH COMPANY has, it appears, been started to lay down, if possible, a line of Chinese, as is asserted, sets up an opium Hongkong, Amoy, Foochow, Ningpo, boiling establishment. Thus far the prospectus as to the object of the new company represented by its agent. We have already expressed onr opinion that the first necessary step will be the laying of a submarine cable from Hongkong to Shanghai. We learn however that it is intended to commence, if Canton which is to be regarded as purely exceived from the port at which the papers however have been gained if the Viceroy are made out, which papersalone enable her | could, after satisfying himself of its practo lawfully carry them as cargo. " The ma- tical uses, be induced to recommend such nifest," says Mc Culloch, "must be made a project strongly to the Peking authorities. The chief difficulty here is not the mere getting a permission to erect a line of telegraph but to ensure its remaining unharmed by the natives, and this we fear will be a difficulty of alarming magnitude. We cannot however but feel an interest ferring on China so powerful an instrument for the transmission of intelligence as the electric telegraph, and though we believe that the scheme must be commenced in the way we have indicated we shall none the less readily confess ourselves to have over estimated the difficulties of the undertaking, should Dr. MacGowan succeed in the course he proposes to adopt.

AMENITIES OF THE BENCH.

r is always very much to be deplored when a justice of the peace incurs the censure of a judge. The office of Magistrate is invariably regarded with much tenderness and respect by judges of the Superior Courts in England; and it is only upon accumulated proofs of incapacity, or in extreme cases, that the Queen's Bench, or Her Majesty's Attorney General, will officially reprove an occupant of the police bench. The censure pronounced yesterday by our Chief Justice upon Mr Mitchell, J. P., came upon us, as we dare say it did upon him, as a startling surprise. It was uttered during His Honor's judgment on the opium appeal case, and our reporter has preserved it as follows :---

His Lordship in the course of his summing up observed, that he was surprised at the remarks made by the sitting Magistrate, Mr F. W. Mitchell, with reference to a former decision of the late Chief Justice Hulme, and expressed his opinion in very strong terms at that gentleman's behaviour in speaking of the decision of a Superior Court with disrespect. His Lordship was of opinion that it was an insult to the bench, and as long as he presided there, he would have it understood that he represented the Queen's Bench in its fullest integrity and he could not help thinking that had such remarks fallen from an inferior Judge in England some official notice would have been taken of it.

In the Mercury of November 13 we find the following additional reference to the

yesterday is likely to throw considerable light on the question of the suitability of the new dollar for circulation. The gang appear to have devoted some time to perfeeting their spurious imitations of that coin, and apparently with much success. At the present moment no inconsiderable number are already in circulation, Canton sharing with Houghoug the glory of becomes most important that the authori- man for man, each equally well armed greatest sufferers thereby are those who can least afford to stand the loss; viz those who, having no compradore or shroff on whose judgment they can rely and who is answerable for the receipt of spurious coin, are obliged to receive, almost without question, anything bearing the general appearance of a dollar. Easy as it is however to suggest that "something" be done to check the crime of false coining it is somewhat more difficult to suggest what that something should be. It may, we think, be taken for granted that it is impossible to produce any coin which defies imitation on the part of so skilful a set of rogues as those we harbour in this colony. The only problem which presents a chance of solution is how to produce a coin which shall require so long a time and so much trouble to imitate as to make the pursuit unremunerative. Whether such a coin can be produced is of course a question which can only be settled by practical men; but at present that is the only point we can see bearing upon the production of the Hongkong coinage. Turning however, from this to the means of repressing the highly injurious and illicit practice of false coining we find considerably more latitude for consideration and suggestion. This crime is punished amongst the Chinese, as it used to be in Europe, by death in an aggravated form. Even as late as 1766, we find that at home corners were sentenced to death by burning, the victims being, as a rule, strangled (not hanged) upon a gibbet erected over the pile on which their bodies were to be consumed. Public feeling now revolts at so barbarous a punishment or the even infliction of the penalty of death for an offence against the pockets of one's fellow creatures, and with the cessation of capital punishment, strange to say, coining has become less frequent. No one would desire to revive this punishment must be found of rendering the risk of detection so great and the penalty so severe, as to deter them from the practice of this people as opposed to that of the which it has just been discovered, they Chinese, and affords strong bopes of Corea carry on under our very noses.

THE COREA.

A curious piece of intelligence crops out in the news received respecting the Corea. special courier (says the N. C. D. News) had arrived from Peking, with a letter advising the Coreans to treat with, rather than attempt to combat, the French, and at first he was inclined to follow the advice. subsequently, however, his councillors ersuaded him to continue the persecution which had been commenced against the Christians, and to persevere in an exclusive policy. The N. C. Daily News gives as its authority for the above, the statement of the two surviving Catholic priests who escaped the massacre of their countrymen, having fled-to the mountains and finally managed to take passage in a junk fo (hefoo, where they arrived on the 6th October. Whether or not their report can be relied on we are of course unable to judge, but if the Prince Regent has indeed tendered such advice to the Corear King it is significant of a vital change in the opinions and policy of the Chinese Government. It has been generally believed that the Chinese attributed their disasters in the late war to anything rather than the absolute superiority of race of those who scattered their troops, and forced the defenders of Peking to capitulate. The lower and middle classes of Northern Chinese at least have invariably attributed their defeat to the disturbed state of the country rendering it impossible to concentrate a sufficient array of force on the defences of the Peihoto the flight of the Emperor Hienfungto the novelty of our mode of attack, &c., producing them. In the interests of all it | &c. ; but in few cases do they admit that, ties should devise some means of putting a the Eurepean is more than a match for stop to these nefarious operations, for the the Mancha. That these opinions were more or less shared by many high in the confidence of the Government is undoubted, and some have been known to declare that were the empire free from intestine strife and were the money hitherto paid as indemnity received by the imperial exchequer, they would soon find a way of ridding the Capital of the obnoxious foreigner. It is therefore peculiarly gratifying to find (if the news be true) that the ruling powers have accepted European superiority as an established fact, and that the foulish ideas of the multitude and the counsels of the anti-foreign party no longer find an echo in high places.

> Jully estimate the character of the people with whom they are going to deal. There ars no doubt that the Coreans will be ignominiously defeated, but they so strongly resemble the Japanese in many points that they are likely to give more trouble than is expected. A an illustration of the difference between them and the Chinese we may mention that a kind hearted medical missionary in Peking, after shewing some members of the annual Corean Mission the contents of his house, including various scientific and other machines, offered to procure for their from England, against their return n the following year, anything they chose to order, at cost price. What a Chinese would have asked for, it is difficult to say. He would probably have declined the offer with thanks. But our Coreans requested that he would or er one or more medicogalvanic machines (they had tested the virtues of the doctor's), a sewing machine, and a complete electric machine, while they made cager enquiries respecting other scientific apparatus. The articles were duly taken and paid for the following year, and, on behalf of their countrymen in Corea, a fresh order of a very extensive nature was given, embracing several articles of which it was deemed impossible This will illustrate the progressive nature becoming, when thrown open to the world, a valuable though small member of the

The Commissioner therefore sinks down to a special constable with a touch of the detective. It was deemed impossible by many that the Futai would give Dr. Macartney the powers he is represented to have received. In thus giving a true version of the nature of his appointment no injustice is done to him; but the somewhat extravagant statements put forth in his behulf by admirers and well wishers are robbed of some of their exuberance. Even the actual facts of the case, however shew a progressive policy on the part of the Futai, and we cannot say that we can well wish he had gone further in the step he has taken.

THERE are few things which an English public regard with more contempt than a display of physical cowardice. Although the present age has ceased in part to consider bravery as the greatest of all virtues, it still regards its opposite as (to use a French expression) more than a crime. It is to be regretted that His Excellency the Governor has found it necessary to charac-Westminster with the language he has used, but the charge against him being substantiated and that opinion being so expressed, any publicity which may be given thereto is a natural penalty attached to the offence committed. To state that an officer in the mercantile marine has been guilty of "disobedience and cowardice of the most unworthy nature" is we should imagine sufficient to exclude bim for ever from that profession in which a lenient court has only suspended his certificate for one year; and few will be found to declare that such a punishment is too heavy for the offence he has committed. It is a matter of public interest that the lives of men and the valuable cargoes of our ships should not be entrusted to those who are unworthy of such trust, and amongst the many courts of enquiry lately held upon losses of ships we are happy to say, for the credit of our country, that few have found it their painful duty to express so damning an opinion of the conduct of an officer as that which has been recorded against the first male of the Westminster.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS

THE San Francisco News Letter, in the course of commenting on Dr. Macgowan's address to the Board of Supervisors on that city, calls special attention to his recommendation that "the Government of the United States should follow the example of other great powers and establish, at the earliest possible moment, a naval station on the coast of China, or Japan. In the event of a war between the United States and any other great maritime power, one of the most important points wherein the commerce of that power could be seriously annoyed would be the Indian Ocean and China Seas. but to do this, a powerful squadron would have to be employed." SUPREME COURT - Wonday, 12th November, 1866. Before the His Honor the Chief Justice.

Hu-nu against Tang-a-see and others Do. Chu-che-nam: Mr Barnard instructed by Mr Caldwell appeared for the appellants, and Mr Pollard q.c., instructed by Mr Hazeland for the respondents. The proceedings were in reference to the opium farming case decided in the Police Court by Mr Mitchell some time since.

Mr Pollard and Mr Barnard rose together to open the case. Mr Pollard claimed to begin at once. Mr Barnard said that he came there to support a motion. Mr Pollard on the other hand said that appel lands had first to prove their right to appeal before they could proceed, as, the learned counsel for the respondents contended, the appellants had not complied with the requirements laid down in the local Ordinance for regulating the course of proceeding on appeal. The learned counsel then moved the Court, that out the above grounds, the cause be acruck off the paper The Ordinance referred to in Section 6 requires that within three clear days after a case has been delivered to an ppellant he shall first transmit a copy thereof with a notice in writing of his appeal to the Respondent, and shall thereupon transmit the Said case to the Supreme Court. This had not been done and the learned counsel in support of his argument quoted the Luperial Act on the subject of appeals where his argument was clearly supported. also several cases in which cases of appeal had been decided against the Appellants. The learned counsel further stated that the Ar ellants had complied with the first part of the requirements of the ordinance, but unfortunately for themselves they had stopped short, half way, and that consequently their case was dead and that they could not proceed with the appeal. He was of opinion that the case did not admit of any argument seeing that the case had not been filed in the Registrar's Office for three weeks after delivery.

Mr. Bernard admitted that the case has not been transmitted within three days but argued that they must fall back on the Ordinance as it now stands, and after rea ding the Ordinance, arged that the reading thereof did not intend to convey the meaning that the case should be deposited with the registrar of the Supreme Court within the same period as the copy supplied to the Respondents, his reading of the clause was that it only intimated that the deposit in the Supreme Court should be madwithin a resonable period, and that was unimportant to the Respondents inasmuch as the notice served on them put them in possession of the fact of the appel lant's intention to appeal against the deci sion of the Magistrate, and that having done so they were at liberty to commence further nance wherein it is laid down that within I ful, and the sea as smooth as glass. three clear days either party to a suit de- 12th. -The man on the look-out cried to the said Justice to state and sign a case, be the Islands Jenieres, the weather consetting forth the facts of the said matter, | tinued beautiful. #### THE FRENCH EXPEDITION TO THE COREA.

The Shanghae Recorder gives publicity to the following extracis from the diary of a French officer engaged in the expedition to the Corean capital. It will be read with much interest. The murder of the Missionnries is defended by the only Mandarin who presented himself; but nothing is told about the General Sherman and the burning of its crew. The writer says : -

As was naturally to be expected, the Mandariu was abruptly dismissed by the 'dmiral, and went away, doubtless much disgasted. On Captain D'Ozery's return, the Admiral gave orders to attack Khanghoa at half past eight the following morning.

October 16th .- 8.30 A.M. -- Three cos lumns advancing under march, Captain D'Ozery commanding the foremost one, 9.30 A.M. -After a march, more resembling a walk than anything else, the Almira halted Captain D'Ozery's men. The force was about four hundred yards from the City walls, when they fired several shots. Shortly afterwards they scaled the walls, but not one single Corean soldier was to be seen; though a few men were observed in the distance bolting away as hard as they could run. The French soldiers burst open the principal gate and the Admiral made his entry into the City of Kanghoa, the remainder of the men carrying arms. The inhabit auts had fled to the hills during the previous night, taking with them all that they could carry, scarcely any one being left in the whole place. The Admiral visited the Yamen; at which place some fifteen or twenty natives, made prisoners, were brought before him. They asserted that the Mandarin had left the City that morning and had induced all the people to follow his example The French soldiers scattered themselves over the City and looted some bed-covers. pigs, fowls and other such things. The Government Store was also entered and quantity of swords, arrows and other weapons were met with. After four hours search the Government chest was discovered. It contained only an amount of some 190,000 francs in silver ingots, carefully wrapped up in paper. This was looked upon as a rather go d haul. One Company garrisoned the City, the remainder of the

The contents were vague and diffuse, and treated at great length of the punishment which had befallen the late missionaries; ending by a request to the Admiral to come up to the Capital and enter into negotiations. 'The Admiral's reply was short but decisive, and after extolling the missionaries, he laid down his claims as follows ; First :- Punishment of the three principal Ministers who instigated the execution of

THE COOLIE EMIGRATION

CONVENTION. THE Convention signed at Peking on the 6th March, embodying the rules and regulations under which the coolie traffic may be carried on in British and French vessels, does not seem likely to be viewed with unmixed satisfaction by anybody except the keepers of baracoons-" Emigration Agencies" they are euphoniously termed in the Convention-and the native crimps employed by them; unless we except the coolies themselves, whose condition would certainly be improved by the new regulations. were they effectually carried out. The terms of the Convention have been sharply criticised by the local press on account of their palpable inconsistency, and justly so. The acknowledged evils of the traffic being known to arise chiefly from its being in the lands of unscrupulous speculators, who employ yet more unscrupulous tools in the shape of native crimps or kidnappers, to bring the human grist to their mill, it is certainly strange that the very document which is devised as a remedy for these evils should commence by giving increased facilities for their continuance; facilities promptly availed of by the French, under whose colours a thriving trade in flesh and blood has been going on ever since. What i the nature of this human commodity ob tained by fraud, held by violence and transported with all the horrors of the African slave trade in its worst days? The recipients of it in the West Indies do not seem to value it very highly after all. The Chinese immigrants have fallen into the vices of opium smoking and gambling. manyas 7,000 out of 10,000 in the colony are devoted to the first-named vice, and 3,000 to gambling. Hence only 10 per cent. of the number are really sober and industrious people." If this statement be correct, the 10,000 Chinese imported in Guiana cannot be considered either a profitable or a welcome addition to the population of that colony. And if the Chinese coolie proved so undesirable an acquisition when imported under the old system, how will it be with the newly imposed restrictions and responsibilities? The Jamaica Standard, in reviewing: the Convention, says:-"It behoves Jamaica to study well the questions thus raised. We want immigrants, but we cannot, with any benefit to ourselves, pay too much for them, any more than a man who wants money can expect to make it profitable by borrowing it at ceut percent. Some timely representations from the planters of this country, who may be best able to deal with the question, ought to be submitted to Governor Grant, with a view of furnishing him with a reliable data whereon to base any consultation he may have with Her Majesty's Ministers in reference to immigration from China to this island." After this, we are not surprised to hear that the Coolie Immigration Committee of Jamaica have determined to receive no coolies from China at all, if the new regulations are rigidly adhered to, although they are still willing to take some 2,000 annually should certain of them be relaxed. In fact, the new order of things seems to work badly at both ends in China it rather encourages the barracoon and crimp system than otherwise, and in the West Indies discourages the continuance of immigration by the severity of the terms imposed. - London & China Express.

COMMERCIAL SUMMARY.

HONGKONG, 14TH NOVEMBER. Our last Summary was under date of 1st November, since then (on the 7th instant) the P. O. Steamer 'Behar' arrived with the English mails of 26th September and Telegrams extending to the 11th ultimo. The 'Lobelia' and 'Red Riding Hood' with full cargoes of English manufactures arrived here on the 8th instant. Business during past fortnight has shewn symptoms of improvement. The market for nearly all staples is firmer, and though the deliveries on the whole have been on a moderate scale, the last few days have been characterized by a decidedly better demand. A lively inquiry has prevailed for 16/24 Twist.

SHIRTINGS are still without attention. T-Cloths of heavy weights have improved in value, and being scarce are firmly held. With the exception of the finer kinds of Woollens, in which a fair amount of business was transacted at advancing rates there is nothing to 'call for special remarks.

RAW COTTON. -The business of the fortnight has been characterized by a continued lively demand and deliveries are far above the average, owing to which and to the falling off of supplies from India an advance of from $2 to $3 has been established. The 'Catharine Apear' from Calcutta laden with Cotton got on shore and had to throw some 2000 Bides to get affoat again. Sales comprise about 20,000 Bales.

COTTON YARN .- About 1000 Bales of the lower numbers changed hands at $4.85 to $1921 per Bale. The business in other counts has been very limited. GREY SHIRTINGS. - No sale of 81 lbs. is reported, and the transactions in 7 lbs comprise about 2000 pieces at $3.30 to and but 900 piec's were sold at quotations. T-Choths-1000 pieces of the heavier makes were sold at botter rates.

DRILLS are difficult of ale. For 40 yards here of this kind. BROCADES and SHIRTINGS are in somewhat better demand, and 1250 pieces changed hands at improved rates. Turkey Red-1500 pieces 3 lbs. were sold at $3.75. Long ELLS. In absence of any demand holders lowered their prices to induce sales, yet the business done is of very limited SCARLETS maintain their high value and continue to be readily saleable. SPANISH STRIPES!- About 1,000 pieces met with purchasers at full rates. There still prevails a fair inquiry. CAMLETS have still further given way in value and continue to be difficult of sale, Sales 360 pieces. LASTINGS. -200 pieces of fair assortment were sold at $18.50 per piece.

METALS. - Nailrod Iron has continued to be freely taken at the reduced ates of $3.15 a $3.30; sales 12,000 bdls. Bar Iron has not been dealt in. Tin Plates have met with slight attention and about 600 boxes were quitted at $6.50 a $6 60. All other Metals have been neglected. Coals continue in fair supply and no change in price has taken place. RICE. - A little speculative inquiry, brought about by the inclement weather which for some days prevailed, has caused

|     | prices to advance about 15 | to 20.   |          | (3)    |

HANKOW, 3RD NOVEMBER. Our last despatch was under date of 20th ultimo since when no Mails from England have come to hand. Telegrams via Kiachta extend to the 25th September, quoting Tea quiet ; Silk steady but dull No. 3 Teatlee 32 S. : Cotton and Cotton Manufactures improving; Bank rate of discount 5 per

A slight improvement is noticeable in Plain ottons and Dyed Fancy Goods, whilst Woollens and Worsteds are neglected. GREY SHIRTINGS. - A fair demand exists, but holders decline to quiet except at an advance. 81 lbs. are in very small supply. WHITE SHIRTINGS are out of demand and prices nominal

T-CLOTHS are in request and higher prices obta hable, owing to smallness of stocks. Drills have still further receded in value. A few small sales are reported at a reduction of 2 to 3 mace per piece, DYED POTS, BROCADES DAMASKS-and other fancy goods continue in demand at advanced rates.

: CHINTZES. - For large patterns a brisk inquiry prevails. WOOLLENS .- Camlets have declined 3 to 1.8.0 a 2.1.0 a 5 mace.

LASTINGS are difficult of sale. Long Ells are in better inquiry but no change in price is as yet noticeable. SPA ISH STRIPES are slightly firmer but the demand is very limited.

YOKOHAMA. 31st OCT. IMPORTS.

In the begining of the fortnight a lively inquiry sprung up for Grey Shirtings, induced by prospects of a speedy termination of the war in the south, and an advance was established. COTTON YARN is in demand but the deliveries have been small, owing to the extreme rates demanded by holders. BLACK VELVETS have still further advanced and as much as $14 has been made for the arrivals per Merse. Purple is out of Woollens of all kinds continue dull of sale. A few hundred Camlets have been disposed of at former rates: METALS. -The market is all but bare of Lead, other description of Metals have been neglected.

SUGAR is in very small supply. Fresh riots having broken out in the Ricedistricts in Yedo, the value of Rice has at-

EXPORTS.

SILK. - Notwithstanding that prices have given way and Silkmen are prepared to concede further reductions buyers refrain from operating at present in anticipation of lower prices. Settlements comprise about 700 piculs, arrivals have been scanty and the available stock does not exceed 350 piculs. Sodai is in fair supply; good Mybash is scarce and for best Atchezan as much as $720 has been asked.

TEA. For fine sorts more activity has been shown and the market was literally cleared at former rates and in same iustances at a slight advance. Lower classes have not met with any attention.

FRREIGHTS. - The great excess of tonnage still in harbour depresses freights materially and we can only quote New York £2 10s. A first class ship, the 'Lorton,' loading at the higher figure. For London, £3. For San Francisco $10 To Shanghai $3 to $4. To Hongkong $5 to $6 per ton.

EXCHANGE .- The operations of the past fortnight, though not of an extensive character, have been remarkable for a consider-9,9,0 able variation in rates both in sterling 32.0.0 a 33.0.0 paper and in Shanghai bills. The closing rate for last mail was 4s 7td for Bank Bills, 45.0.0 a 60.0.0 | that for the present is 4s 61d, the rate being gradually dropped to that point; the 4.0.0 a. 4.5.0 Banks have been constantly in the market 54.0.0 a 60.0.0 for the purchase of private credits; but the 31.0.0 a 36.0.0 amount procurable has been but scanty, 23.0.0 a. 24.0.0 4s 7d has been offered for first class credits 7.5.0 a 7.8.0 towards the close of the mail; 4s 71d to 13.0.0 a 13.5.0 4s 72d has been readily obtained by sellers. As regards Shanghai, a fair amount of private paper has been settled at from 73% to 742, the latter being opening and the former the closing rates.

The rate on Hougkong has not undergone much change, and the amount of business done has been of little importance. In Itziboos a few sales have taken place at fsom 306 to 3071. We quote :- On London-Bank, 6 mths sight, 4s 61d., Credits, 4s. 7d. to 4s. 71d., Documentary, 4s 63d. On Shanghai-3.6.0 Bank, 19 days sight 731; Private 731 to 74. On Hongkong-Bank, 10 days' sight, 2.4.0 a 2.5.0 \frac{1}{2} per cent. discount to par. Private, 15 to 11 per cent discount Boos 306.
